

Boomerang
1953

EX LIBRIS

To H. C. Miller
our principal who has given years of commendable service
to Winterset High School, we dedicate the 1953 Boomerang. Through his efforts we have gained inspiration to build character and to respect others.

As the years go by many students pass through the doors of W. H. S. Above are the Freshmen going in with four years of wonderful experience ahead of them.

HISTORY

The outlook wasn't brilliant for the Freshman class that day.
We knew there'd be four years of work; we hoped there'd be some play.
The faces that were so strange then, are quite familiar now.
We took one look around and vowed we'd get along somehow.

As kindergarteners brave, we started 13 years ago.
Our parents and our teachers hoped eventually we'd grow
Into gentlemen and ladies, and with each passing day,
Came desire for higher learning which helped along the way.

Some of our classmates left us; only 18 still push on.
But others have come to fill in for the ones who have gone.
And so all 93 of us entered in the old game.
They all called us Green Freshmen, but since then we've risen to fame.

With 16 boys in football; 14 girls and boys in band.
Ten boys were out for basketball to lend a helping hand.
Seven girls played B-Squad ball; one girl we congratulate,
For she played with the A-Squad the first year they went to State.

There were 28 in chorus who raised their voices in song.
They showed the upper classmen they knew how to get along.
We also had 2 students in Pep Club our Freshmen year.
They did their part right with the rest, when the time came to cheer.

But let's not forget the others who helped to see us through;
Who studied hard to master English and algebra too.
For they will be immortal in the chain of memory;
They centered all their interests more academically.

The next year we were Sophomores; we were no longer green.
I do believe we were the gentlest class this school has ever seen.
We never slammed our locker doors or talked while in the hall.
The teachers thought us angels. Well, weren't we, after all??

Now on the B-Squad football team, we had 11 boys.
Four students took part in Pep Club to help create the noise.
And then, of course, the A-Squad boys, there were 5 from our class.
These boys worked hard to be able to run, and kick, and pass.

Again we had a winning A-Squad girls basketball team.
Out of our class were 5 girls with the stamina and steam.
Seven boys played on the B-Squad; the B-Squad girls were three.
One boy made the A-Squad with his great sports ability.

Thirteen received awards in band; in chorus 22 took part.
Then, don't pass by the cheerleaders who worked with all their hearts.
The twirling field was not at all exempt from some of us;
For we had 2 girls show the school they had twirling genius.

Dramatics is another field in which we helped the school.
Three students in our class proved that they were nobody's fool.
On through the year we strived to do our very best and pass.
So each of us could carry on with the same grand old class.

Our Junior year soon came around; we took it in our stride.
We swore we'd try to do our best, by all rules we'd abide.
One more girl took the title of cheerleader in our midst.
Together with the other three we had four on our list.

In football, basketball, and track 31 took up the stand.
Seventeen took part in chorus; 15 played in the band.
We now were upper classmen; we had the world by the tail.
Just think, next year we'll be seniors; that is if we all don't fail.

Our Junior class play came at last; it was a great success.
The auditorium was full of fans both nights, I guess.
Our Junior-Senior Prom that year was quite a great event.
We all agreed this was indeed the best year we had spent.

The fall of '52 was here; so long we'd waited for this.
We found it hard to settle down, for we were in such bliss.
Twenty-two took part in sports on the A-Squad and on the B.
Our homecoming exercises were quite some sights to see.

Shirley Davis was our queen; Bob Kuhns presented the crown.
The pantomime presented left not a solitary frown.
The chorus gave a wonderful program at Christmas time.
Fourteen seniors raised their voices in harmony and rhyme.

Fourteen again played in the band, to them we give our praise.
In concerts, dance band, and contests they've helped in many ways.
Robert Moore's attendance for four years was perfectly kept.
He was never gone when ill, nor late when he overslept.

Our high school days will soon be o'er, we'll leave with deep regret.
We'll ne'er forget our teachers and the friends that we have met.
We know we'll find it hard to leave; we think of it and sigh.
The time has come for us to go. Dear W. H. S., goodbye!

PROPHECY

While studying the other day, I fell asleep and had a futurmatic dream. I saw the graduating class of '53 in 1973.

The presidential inauguration of '73 was held in the capital city, Skullyville. Donald Haines, the new president, has just left for a cruise up North River with his cabinet. The government this year is distinguished by having an all-girl cabinet. A few of the members are:

Rose Marie John-Secretary of State. We're afraid she'll be doing all the work.

Jo Ann Sirdoreus-Secretary of the Army. We hear Harold has a little pull with the army now.

Ida Palmer-Secretary of Agriculture. Her friend Eileen Benge uses her connections as Secretary of Labor to keep Ida's farms going.

Marilyn Songer-Postmaster General. I wonder if they will need a postman on this cruise.

Arleta Frederick-Secretary of War. She has just perfected a theory to abolish war.

Some of our classmates have entered politics abroad, too. For instance, Shirley Davis was called upon to be Queen of England on the grounds of previous experience. Carl Henry, Bill Hines, and Bob Kuhns are all her knights. Keep that armor shining, boys. Careful, we don't mean n-i-g-h-t life.

So much for international affairs. Let's return to Madison County. There have been a few changes in Winterset the past 20 years. Larry Jackson owns Ford Motor and Bill Husted is the new owner of Mills Chevrolet. Seems they argued so long and hard about cars in high school that they convinced each other they were driving the wrong car.

Myrna Brittain is new manager of Brittain's Standard Parts. Phyllis Porter and Dorothy Keating are her head clerks.

In place of Nelson's Smart Apparel, we have George's Lady's Shop. It is owned by one of the class bachelors, George Schoonover. Let's go in and see how George is getting along. Those two customers over there look familiar. They're none other than Ruth Ann Mills and Sandra Beverlin. They are buying college clothes for their daughters. Here comes a model in a cute outfit. It's Betty Jones, another old classmate. She is followed by Marilyn Cline.

Delores Silliman runs the Super Dooper Fire Power Long Mileage Gas Station. In the station one can buy groceries, clothes, novelties, bakery goods, and even drugs. The registered pharmacist, Barbara Henrichs, fills all the prescriptions. Then there's the toy department and jewelry shop. But, of course, with all this she hasn't room for gas.

Bill Beedle is coaching basketball and football at W.H.S. Carl Letz is principal and Ruby Gilleland is superintendent.

Alice Haines is head nurse at the new ultra-modern 300 bed Peru Hospital. One of the head doctors at the hospital is Loren Myers, an old Peruvian.

Mary Jo Koehn is teaching advanced physics in Skullyville High School. Since the capital was moved to Skullyville, the population has risen considerably.

Tom King and Clair Bertholf have set up an atomic research plant in the Rippey Dumps. We are now on the scene of the first explosion. There it goes! Good heavens, they leveled the hills!

Charlotte Williams and Beverly Weidman have a secretarial school in the capital. Gail Brown is their track instructor. The girls have to stay in shape to keep ahead of their future employees. Those desks aren't very big.

Louise Vincent is now singing with the Stanzel Metropolitan Opera Co. This world renowned organization has some other members of our class in its midst. Bob Stephenson is the director of the orchestra, which consists of Martha Ann Harper, Bill Easter, and Eugene Patterson.

Duane Howell and Bill Lehman are retired farmers. They found oil on their land and are fabulously rich. They have a Cadillac for field work and a Rolls-Royce for pleasure.

Mary Ann Husted is back in Des Moines. She just couldn't understand the people out here.

Marcia Lillard is number one editor of Donald Duck Comics. I hear she longed in high school to be a short story writer. Rowena Murrell and Janice Hudson are her artists.

Richard De Vault has taken Arthur Godfrey's place on radio and T.V. He gets a big laugh just being himself. Marvyl Black Letz, Phyllis Davis, Shirley Harpole, and Jackie Honnold are members of his chorus line.

Pat McNamara sponsors the Golden Gloves Boxing Matches held in Winterset. The fights are televised by Floyd Bailey from station WSQU in Winterset every Friday night. Pat tells us that Duane Allison is striving to keep his paper weight championship title.

Arleta Simpson is receptionist for Interplanetary Airlines. Only one problem, no interplanetary flights.

A new M.D. in town is Joe Saxton. He is trying to get rid of his nickname-----.

Frances Callison is self-appointed ambassador of good-will to ex-air force men.

I see that Ed Hartley has become a highway patrolman. Those trips between surrounding towns and Winterset were getting expensive. Now it's all in the line of duty.

The new Dean of Colorado Woman's College is none other than Suzanne Jackson. Several members of our class are on her list of lecturers. Shirley Allen is to give a series of talks on "The Advantages of Careers over Marriage." John Hart is a popular bachelor member of the faculty. John gives driving lessons to all the co-eds. We don't mean in Parkology, either.

Harlow Finney, Robert Moore, and Lester Berry are all big executives. Harlow is top man of the totem pole. Bob is vice-president to the vice-president, to the vice-president of furniture polishing in the White House. Lester is chef at the Edgewater Beach Hotel near Podunk.

Butler's Airfield west of Winterset has a new paratrooper instructor. He is Charles Greenwood. Charles has only one thing to achieve; leaving the ground in an airplane.

John Clark, Jake Collins, and Kenneth Conard are the chief firebugs--whoops, we mean firemen of Winterset.

I see David Lord is in the National Guards. He is guarding the Hope Diamond which now belongs to Rex.

They are now choosing Mr. America in the Bronx of Winterset. And as I look closer I recognize Earl Kordick as the winner of the title.

Bob Schirm is having a little trouble getting his motorcycle started. It won't run and Bob doesn't know why because he just tore it apart to see how it was made.

Kenneth Horn is Balloon King of America. His business is popping.

Donald Thomas now drives a jeep for General Donald Dillinger. General Dillinger inspects Rice Crispies to see if they snap, crackle, and pop.

Lois Wilson is fat lady for Barnum-Bailey Circus. She has spent the last 20 years eating for the part.

After seeing all my friends in these various situations, I suddenly awaken to the nerve-tingling ringing of an alarm clock. Courtesy of the Jim Agnew Manufacturing Company.

WILL

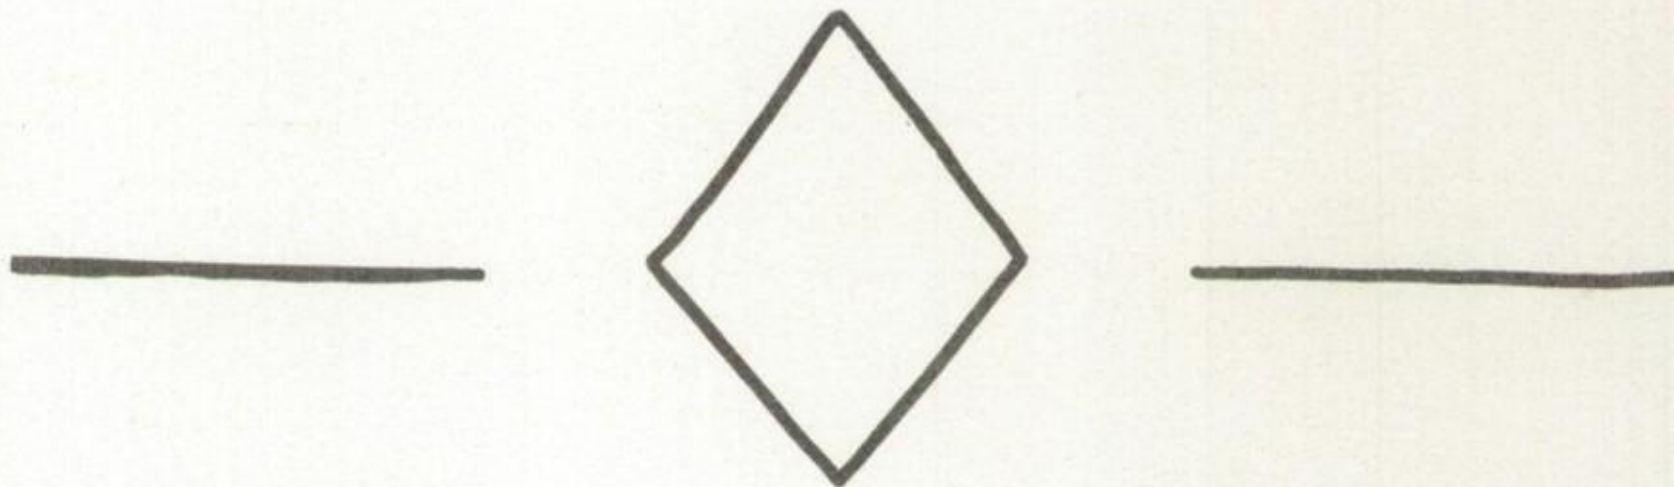

The Senior Class of nineteen hundred fifty-three, being of sound mind and body, bequeath the following:

To the faculty we leave the proverbial "calm after the storm." To the janitors we leave all our class notes to keep next year's students warm.

Marcia Lillard leaves her ability of making a situation sound twice as good as it really is to Janice Vee Clark. Not that Janice Vee needs it, of course. Sandra Beverlin leaves her motto to all high school girls. Incidentally, her motto is, "To each his own, so leave mine alone." Bob Stephenson leaves his ability to confuse Mr. Waters in Social Problems to Lewie Haines. Don't get that turned around, Lewie. Betty Jones leaves her place in the hall with Ray Cameron, hoping no one takes it. Lois Wilson leaves for Woodward. Don't get any ideas. Paul goes to a John Deere School up there. Bill Husted finally removes his little red and white, dual-piped Ford from the streets of Winterset. The police force will probably celebrate. Carl Letz leaves his long legs to Francia Leeper. It will help you in basketball, Francia. Jim Agnew leaves his broad, friendly smile to cheer up the students next year. Shirley Davis leaves the honor of reigning as 1952 Homecoming Queen to all the junior girls to hope for. Donald Haines was given the ability of staying awake in class after staying awake all night last year. Donald has decided that Ed Harrell is in dire need of it, so passes it on to him. John Hart leaves his girl friends to Joe Hamand. Chuck Greenwood leaves his faded levis to Max Day. You don't wear ties with them, Max. Shirley Allen leaves to catch a certain parachute. Lewie's a paratrooper. Joe Saxton and Harlow Finney leave their experiences at Creston Vocal Festivals to all singers interested. Arleta Frederick leaves for California. Wonder why! Lester Berry is trying to leave, but can't find the door. Last year Ted Bek willed to Carl Henry his way with the girls. Carl decided he's had so much fun with it, he'll just keep it. Pat McNamara wills his flashy shirts and suspenders to Bernard Harpole. Alice Haines leaves a little of her knowledge to help out future students. Ruby Gilleland leaves her pleasant ways to anyone who can do justice to them. Arleta "Shrimp" Simpson, if she doesn't get lost in the shuffle, is leaving her scattered brains to help out next year's bookkeeping class. Bob Schirm leaves his old-time nickname "Hammerhead" to anyone who can have a hammer dropped on his head and not have it hurt. Earl Kordick leaves his physique to Larry Travis. John Clark wills his formula for getting through classes without preparation to all juniors. Just sit still and be real quiet. Tom "Einstein" King wills his scientific genius to John Greenwood. With the driving ability willed to her last year, Jo Ann Sirdoreus leaves to join Harold. Rowena Murrell wills her artistic ability to Ed Morrissey. Ed Hartley, who is never late for class, requests that Cliff Johnson carry on the record. Janice Hudson wills her dainty voice and courteous manners to Barbara Thomsen. Barb Henrichs leaves her snappy brown eyes and hair to Bill "Blondie" Koehn. Marilyn Cline, our basketball lass, leaves her job at the Maid-Rite to Dorothy Clements. George Schoonover wills his bashful tactics to Gene Croft. Eileen Bengé leaves her 2nd year algebra to the sophomores. Bill Hines leaves his ability to act like a monkey to Phil Mills. Please don't take it Phil. No one could deserve such a thing. Rich DeVault leaves his witty remarks for Mr. Jeneary to decipher. Last year some studious ability was willed to Duane Allison. Since Duane didn't use much of it, he would like to pass it on to Wayne Curnes. Bill Beedle leaves his enormous capacity for food to any five boys who can eat that much. Kenneth Conard and Floyd Bailey leave their quiet ways to Jim Frederick. It will take a lot to quiet Jim down. Rose John leaves her red hair to Ed Henry. What a blow! Larry Jackson leaves Dick full priority over the black Chevrolet. He didn't say anything about Janice Vee. Loren Myers and Don Dillinger leave their table at the pool hall to Norma Wight and Lois Hart. Dee Silliman leaves her dimples to Charlie Dowler. Makes your smile more appealing, Charlie. Clair Bertnolf leaves his track ability to Gerald Ridout. Come on, Ridout, get the lead out!! Marvyl Letz doesn't need her man-catching ability anymore, so she leaves it to Mary Bindle. Myrna Brittain leaves her skating ability to Max Newbury. Graceful like a bird, Max. Bill Lehman and Kenny Horn leave their night life to the Wallace twins. Gail Brown, Rex Hope, and Jake Collins finally leave, after much coaxing, of course. Marilyn Songer leaves her parking place in front of the high school to her sister, Shirley. She'll have to find her own car and driver, though. Louise Vincent leaves her giggle to Loren Seward. David Lord leaves his neatness to all W.H.S. romeos wishing to make a good impression on the girls. Bob Kuhns leaves his great height to Jack Stevens, although Jack has a head start. Don Thomas leaves his driving solos to anyone who likes to talk to himself. Mary Jo Koehn leaves her Monday-morning fatigue to all girls with a boy friend in college. Ruth Ann Mills leaves her sophisticated ways to Jane Macumber. Quick change, Jane! Bob Moore leaves his nickname "Oscar" to Oscar Hicks. Mary Ann Husted leaves her blond hair to Jo Ann Riser. Peroxide will help. Sue Jackson leaves her sister, Lorean, to go through high school without Sue's sisterly advice. Phyllis Davis leaves her twirling and cheerleading outfits to Irma. Think you can handle both, Irma? Shirley Ann Harpole and Charlotte Williams leave their jobs uptown to future merchandising students. Bev Weidman leaves her friendly ways to Wanda Clark. Duane Howell and Bill Easter leave for Hollywood. They hope to cash in on their good looks. Ida Palmer decided not to leave her job at the telephone office as she just started the second semester. Jackie Honnold leaves bus no. 1 to Mr. Dudney. Dorothy Keating and Phyllis Porter leave their continuous flow of conversation to Sharon Hanson and Meredith Young. Mr. Pace thinks they have enough already. Gene Patterson leaves his nickname "Peck" to all future students in typing.

As we leave these things, there are so many others we would like to take along. We now have only memories of our wonderful school days. Ball games, music contests, parties, etc. The actual doing of these things we must leave to the student body to enjoy next year. To the juniors we leave the honor of reigning above the underprivileged underclassmen. To the sophomores we leave the problem of raising enough money for next year's prom. To the freshmen we leave the joy of showing the incoming eighth grade just what's what around W.H.S. To the incoming eighth graders we leave some much-needed sympathy. Last, but not least, Frances Callison and Martha Ann Harper leave for two weeks rest after working so industriously on this will.

NOON HOUR

There's nothing much that we can say,
Except what's in our hearts.
It is so hard to say goodbye;
To know that we must part.

Our teachers have been like guiding hands
To steer us straight and clear;
As with each subject, each book we read
We've progressed year by year.

We've had our parties, our plays and proms;
Our banquets and social events.
And through each trial, each great success
Four wonderful years we've spent.

Oh, golden memories of those past years,
In my mind are lingering yet,
As with a smile, a sigh, and a tear,
We'll leave them with fond regret.
